

- 1 Visitor Center
Visits begin here with an orientation film, a time-line, and historical exhibits.
- 2 Western Lodge
Once the gatekeeper's residence, it houses a gate-opening wheel Alfred I. duPont designed.
- 3 Temple of Love
The bronze statue of Diana the Huntress looks out from this classically-inspired temple.
- 4 Oriental Gardens
From the Chinese-style gate to the stone arch bridge, these gardens reveal an Asian influence.
- 5 Sunken Gardens
Alfred I. duPont's only son, Alfred Victor duPont, an architect, designed these gardens.
- 6 Colonnade
This memorial honors Alfred I. duPont's great-great-grandfather and great-grandfather.
- 7 Maze Garden
A maze of barberry and arborvitae surrounds the bronze and gold leaf statue of Achievement.
- 8 Reflecting Pool
The Four Seasons looked on as the duPonts used this large pool for swimming and boating.
- 9 Vista (The Long Walk)
Elk statues, fountain urns, and tree-lined allees frame this magnificent walkway.
- 10 Russian Gates
Forged in France, these iron gates stood outside a palace owned by the Empress of Russia.
- 11 English Gates
These 18th-century English gates were once used at Wimbledon Manor outside London.
- 12 Nemours Mansion
Designed and built between 1909 and 1910, the 47,000-square foot mansion has 77 rooms.
- 13 Laundry
Its equipment served the needs of both the household and the domestic staff.
- 14 Water Tower
This tower held 18,000 gallons of water used on the estate and chimed the hours with its clock.
- 15 Chauffeur's Garage
Housed here are vintage automobiles, a pony cart and a motor launch used by the duPonts.
- 16 Woodland Trailhead
Two trails wind through boulder-strewn hillsides to natural springs and concrete pools.
- 17 Farm Equipment
These farm tools were used on the Estate's orchards, produce gardens and nurseries.
- 18 Southern Gardens
Three "rooms"—Boxwood Parterre, Four Borders and Frog Pond—transition from formal to natural.
- 19 Greenhouses
Built between 1909 and 1981, the greenhouses provided cut flowers and plants for the Estate.
- 20 New Pump House
The huge engine in this building bears a plaque: "Made by Alfred I. duPont 1931."
- 21 Old Pump House
This building formerly housed a pump that furnished water to the gardens.
- 22 Lower Ponds
These ponds serve as habitats for ducks, herons, songbirds, frogs and turtles.
- 23 Wren's Nest
Built in the 1920s, this mail-order structure was used as a children's schoolroom and playhouse.
- 24 Rock Garden
Flanking a stream that links a series of ponds, this garden contains dwarf conifers and bulbs.
